

Donovan Richards Jr.
QUEENS BOROUGH PRESIDENT

Queens Community Board Demographic Report

Issued July 2022

Executive Summary

In 2022, the Office of Queens Borough President Donovan Richards Jr. continued to build on last year's progress toward rectifying long-standing demographic inequities in community board membership by doubling down on effective reforms and prioritizing appointees from underrepresented constituencies.

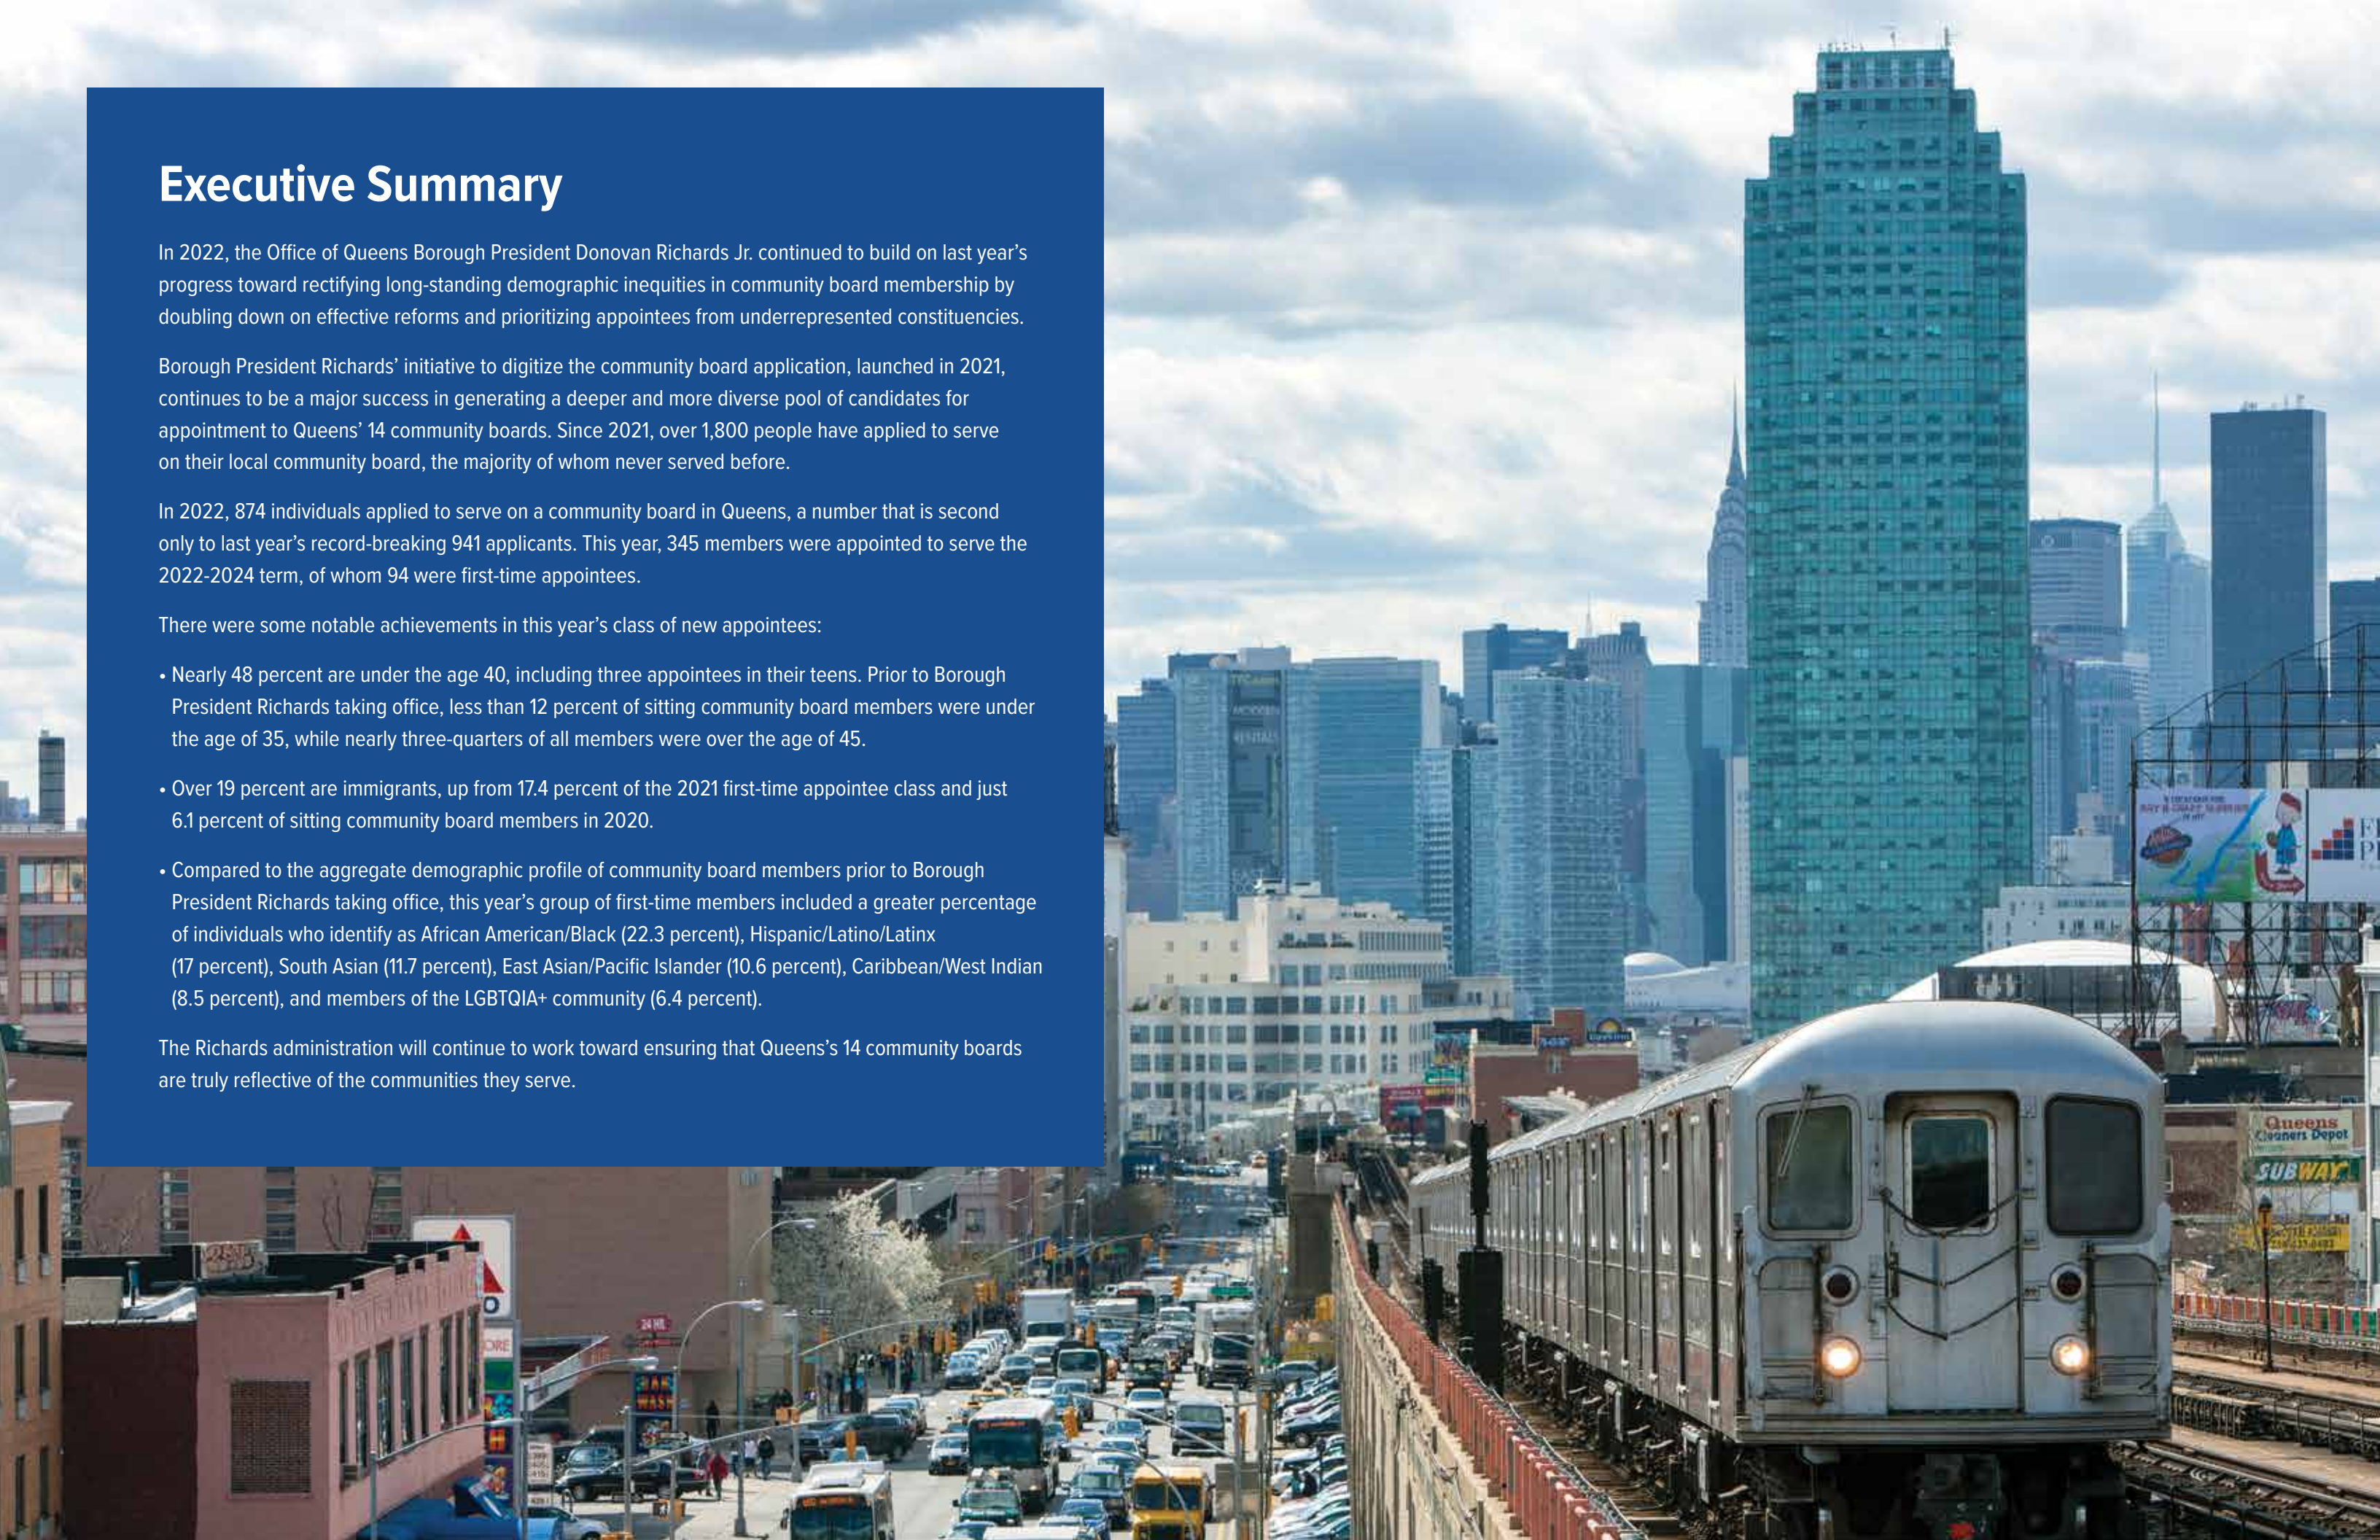

Borough President Richards' initiative to digitize the community board application, launched in 2021, continues to be a major success in generating a deeper and more diverse pool of candidates for appointment to Queens' 14 community boards. Since 2021, over 1,800 people have applied to serve on their local community board, the majority of whom never served before.

In 2022, 874 individuals applied to serve on a community board in Queens, a number that is second only to last year's record-breaking 941 applicants. This year, 345 members were appointed to serve the 2022-2024 term, of whom 94 were first-time appointees.

There were some notable achievements in this year's class of new appointees:

- Nearly 48 percent are under the age 40, including three appointees in their teens. Prior to Borough President Richards taking office, less than 12 percent of sitting community board members were under the age of 35, while nearly three-quarters of all members were over the age of 45.
- Over 19 percent are immigrants, up from 17.4 percent of the 2021 first-time appointee class and just 6.1 percent of sitting community board members in 2020.
- Compared to the aggregate demographic profile of community board members prior to Borough President Richards taking office, this year's group of first-time members included a greater percentage of individuals who identify as African American/Black (22.3 percent), Hispanic/Latino/Latinx (17 percent), South Asian (11.7 percent), East Asian/Pacific Islander (10.6 percent), Caribbean/West Indian (8.5 percent), and members of the LGBTQIA+ community (6.4 percent).

The Richards administration will continue to work toward ensuring that Queens's 14 community boards are truly reflective of the communities they serve.

Report

Per the requirement of New York City Charter §82(17)(a), the Office of the Queens Borough President (“QBPO”) issues the following report detailing demographic information and the appointment process for Queens community board members.

Queens Borough President Donovan Richards Jr. took office in December 2020 with a goal of ensuring that community boards better reflect the demographics of the communities they represent. Last year’s report identified the major demographic disparities that existed on community boards at the time:

Each board has specific discrepancies, but generally this information demonstrated that Community Boards in Queens are generally older, more male, and less racially diverse than the areas they represent. Specifically, of those who provided information regarding age, only 24.4% of Queens Community Board members in 2020 were 45 years old or younger, while 75.6% were 46 years old or older, and 36.3% were 66 years old or older. Of those who provided information regarding gender, only 43.4% of appointees were women, while 56.6% were men. And although each board catchment area has a different underlying demographic profile with respect to race and ethnicity, members who identified as white were generally overrepresented on boards, and most boards were underrepresented by members identifying as Latinx/Hispanic, Asian, and/or African-American/Black.

Prior to making its 2022 appointments, QBPO reviewed the current demographic information for each board’s membership and compared those profiles to the most recent demographic information for each board’s community district. Although the 2021 class of first-time appointees’ unprecedented diversity lessened many preexisting demographic disparities, it was clear from this analysis that more work was needed.

For this year’s appointments, QBPO refined the strategy it used in 2021: First, ensure that the community board application process was simple and user-friendly; second, reach a large and diverse group of potential applicants; and third, appoint a new membership class that would help to address identified demographic discrepancies on each board.

First, QBPO continued to employ its online community board membership application, which was introduced in 2021 with the goal of removing unnecessary barriers. Once again, QBPO enlisted BetaNYC, a public interest technology not-for-profit organization, to help manage this system and analyze collected demographic data. For the second year, the application included questions on a number of additional relevant demographic categories, including (1) whether the applicant owns a home, rents, lives in public housing, or has another housing status, (2) whether the applicant primarily drives, bikes, takes public transportation, or uses other transportation options, and (3) the member’s educational attainment. After two years of including these questions, QBPO has a fuller picture of the degree to which the borough’s community boards actually reflect the communities they represent.

Second, QBPO doubled down on its efforts to reach a younger and more diverse applicant pool. Beginning in January 2022, QBPO undertook substantial efforts to publicize the opening of this year’s community board application period. Specific efforts included issuing a press release, posting on various social media platforms and the QBPO website, and sending out announcements and reminders in electronic newsletters. Further, QBPO staff issued announcements at all community board meetings held during the application period, as well as at Borough Board and Borough Cabinet meetings and other public meetings and events. QBPO also worked closely with the Queens City Council delegation during the application period and requested that they actively solicit applications from their networks.

Although there were slightly fewer applicants in 2022 than in 2021—874 versus 941—this year’s number of applications was the second-highest total ever received by QBPO and was approximately 50 percent greater than the typical number of applicants in the years prior to the application’s digitization.

This year, not all reapplying members were reappointed; the Borough President declined to reappoint a small number of members due to poor attendance. In total, there were 251 reappointments and 94 first-time appointees. Like last year, Borough President Richards appointed a member for every vacancy to ensure that each board had full capacity of 50 members. Vacancies broken down by board are detailed in the following chart.

CB3: 7 vacancies	CB7: 2 vacancies	CB11: 8 vacancies
CB4: 8 vacancies	CB8: 5 vacancies	CB12: 6 vacancies

There were 601 applications in total from those seeking a first-time appointment. The number of applications for each open spot, disaggregated by board, is provided in the following chart.

CB4: 21 applications	CB8: 50 applications	CB12: 59 applications

After receiving these applications, QBPO carefully evaluated each candidate. The first consideration for appointment to a community board was whether the candidate was eligible for appointment under the provisions of New York City Charter §2800(a). The online application asked members to affirm that they had a residence, business, professional, or other significant interest in the district and required them to provide documentation confirming their eligibility.

If the applicant was eligible, then they were evaluated holistically based on information provided in their application and interview. Like last year, Borough President Richards sought to ensure that each new applicant was contacted for a one-on-one interview with a QBPO staff member, who assessed factors including the length of the applicant’s residence or interest in the community, whether the applicant has previously attended community board meetings, the applicant’s stated reason(s) for seeking appointment to a community board, the applicant’s commitment to consistent attendance at meetings, the applicant’s organizational and community affiliations (as an indication of civic engagement), and the skills and experience possessed by the applicant that could best serve the community district.

All community board districts in Queens are made up of more than one City Council district, and QBPO ensured that each City Council district included within a community board district was proportionately represented on that Community Board. In making final decisions, QBPO considered whether the aggregate of appointments fairly represented all segments of the community, in accordance with the Charter. Prior to making appointments, QBPO met with or solicited the input of each Queens City Council Member. QBPO recommended that Council Members nominate applicants from communities that were underrepresented on their respective boards and, with each Council Member, jointly reviewed a list of applicants from within their Councilmanic district, discussed demographic priorities for new appointments, and confirmed which applicants had been nominated by the Council Member.

Attached to this report is a list of all Queens community board members as of April 1, 2022, the date on which this year’s community board appointments were made. Queens community board members are appointed for staggered two-year terms that begin annually on April 1.

The spreadsheets attached to this report include collected information, presented in an aggregated and anonymized manner, for all members collectively and by board.

Demographic Data re: New Appointees

The demographic data on the 94 new appointees reflects Queens Borough President Richards’ ongoing commitment to address demographic disparities on the borough’s community boards. Of the 94 new appointees, notable achievements include:

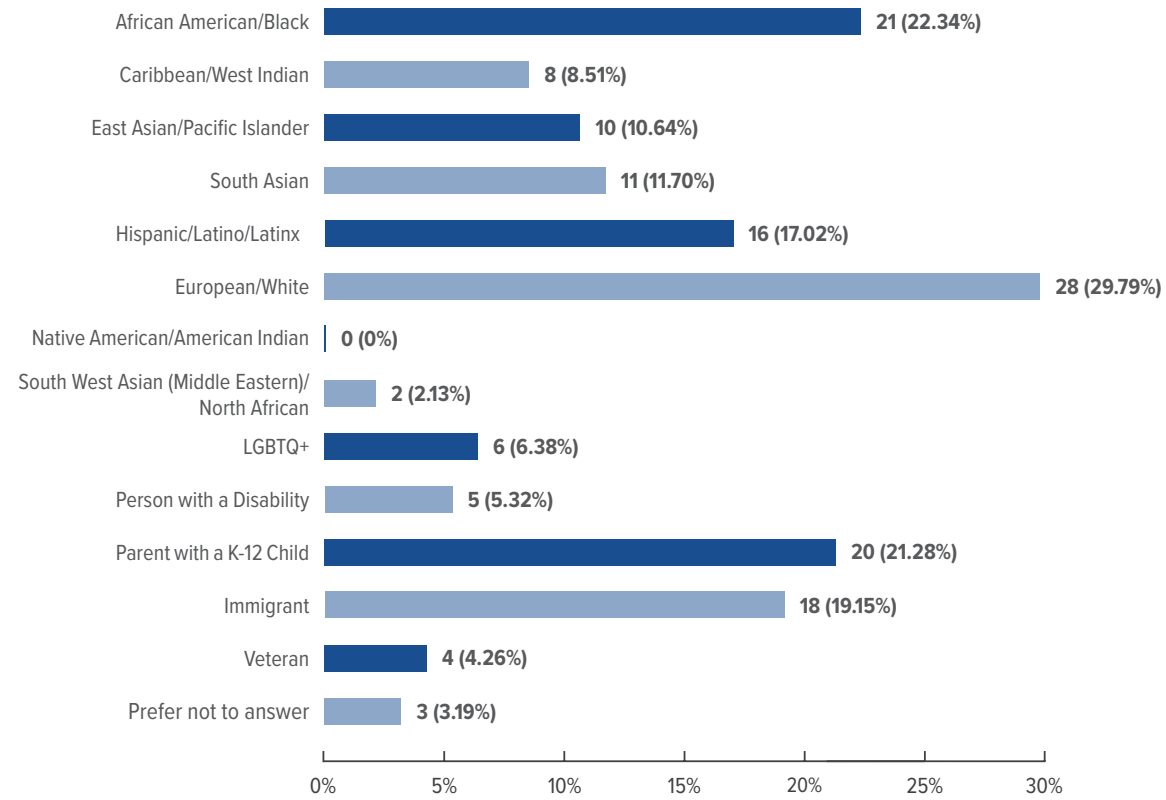

- Nearly 48 percent are under the age 40, including three appointees in their teens. Prior to Borough President Richards taking office, less than 12 percent of sitting community board members were under the age of 35, while nearly three-quarters of all members were over the age of 45.
- Over 19 percent are immigrants, up from 17.4 percent of the 2021 first-time appointee class and just 6.1 percent of sitting community board members in 2020.
- Compared to the aggregate demographic profile of community board members prior to Borough President Richards taking office, this year’s group of first-time members included a greater percentage of individuals who identify as African American/Black (22.3 percent), Hispanic/Latino/Latinx (17 percent), South Asian (11.7 percent), East Asian/Pacific Islander (10.6 percent), Caribbean/West Indian (8.5 percent), and members of the LGBTQ+ community (6.4 percent).
- Representation of parents of school-age children increased, as 21.3 percent of this year’s new appointees fall into that category — an increase of nearly 15 percentage points compared to board membership as of 2020.
- This year’s class of new appointees has more renters than those who own a house. Nearly 24 percent live in market-rate apartment rentals, 6.4 percent live in rented houses, 3.2 percent live in rent-regulated apartments, and 3.2 percent live in NYCHA housing, while about 29 percent of new members own a house, a significant and important shift considering the tribulations of tenants struggling to afford rent in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic and its destructive economic fallout.
- This year’s class of new appointees was also diverse in their reported main forms of transportation: 52.1 percent of new appointees regularly ride the subway, 42.6 percent regularly ride buses, 17 percent ride bikes or other micro-mobility devices, and 44.7 percent walked.

- While this year’s first-time appointee class includes slightly more male appointees (50 percent) than female appointees (46.8 percent), Borough President Richards remains committed to reaching a better balance of gender representation on Queens’ community boards. Over the past two years, 54.9 percent of new appointees identified as women, while 41.7 percent have identified as men; prior to his administration, only 43 percent of board members were women and 56.3 percent were men.

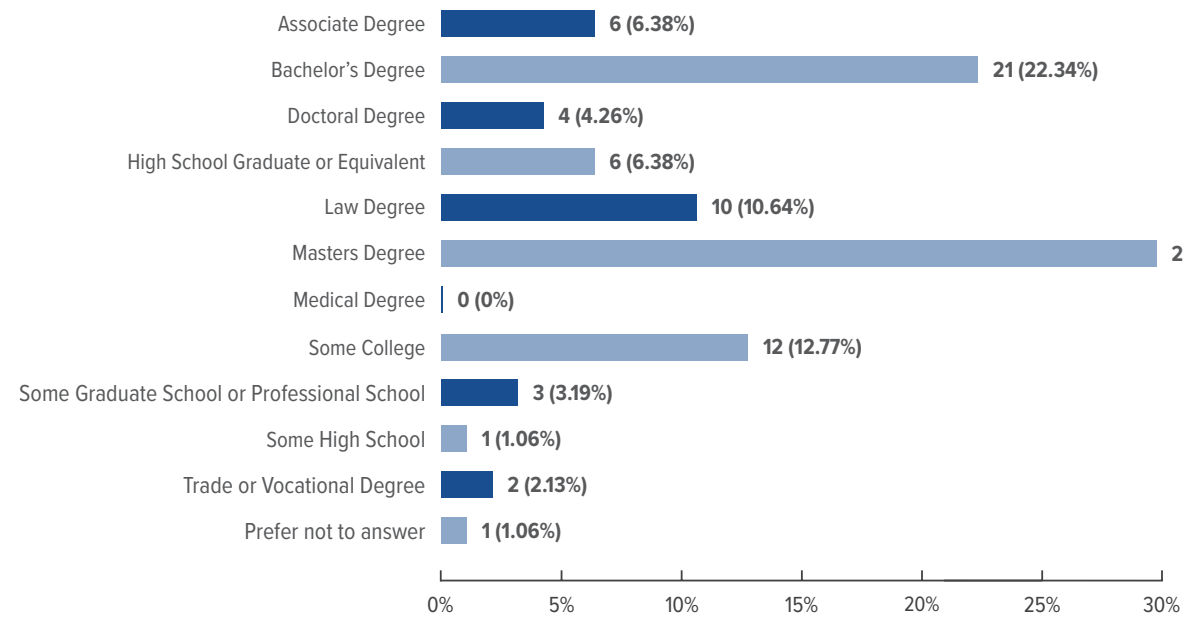

Aggregated and anonymized demographic data for new appointees are included in the graphs below.
